VOL. XXVI NO. 29.

PADUCAH, KY., WEDNESDAY EVENING, AUGUST 4, 1909

TEN CENTS PER WEEK

Miss Mattie Evans First to Vote Anywhere Near the Million Mark in the Sun's Great Voting Contest

James Langstaff Second, Miss
Carmen Andrews Third,
Miss Armstrong Fourth
and Mrs. Winstead Fifth

The million mark has almost been reached in The Sun and Associate Newspapers' Voting Contest, and the magnitude of this great undertaking is beginning to be realized.

Miss Mattie Evans, of Barlow, Ballard county, is the first candidate to vote anywhere near the million mark. Her score as published today is $46,908.

The candidate who held second honors at the close of balloting yesterday at noon is Mr. James Langstaff, of Paducah, who had voted $13,625; Miss Carmen Andrews, of Wickliffe, was third with $64,457; Miss Lexie Armstrong, of Lovelaceville, fourth, with $61,372, and Mrs. S. H. Winstead, of Paducah, fifth, with $58,809.

The order will probably change by tomorrow and some of the five leaders of today will probably drop back farther into the ranks and new names appear in the head lines in Thursday's paper. The final struggle is on and the race is going to be hard-fought and exciting from now until Saturday.

Nearly every candidate attracted into the race The Sun's $10,000 prize list has worked hard and faithfully and not a few of them have had splendid luck. It is not telling tales to declare that more than one will cross the million mark before the week is over. The fight for the grand prizes is going to be the prettiest contest ever witnessed, and the winners will probably go under the wire only a few votes to the good.

Subscriptions are coming in fast this week and candidates are again urged to turn in daily. Saturday will be a busy day with the contest department, and it will be more

Prospectors Are Drowned.

Edmonton, Alberta, Aug. 4.—Reports say that Count Von Hammerstein, a well known oil prospector, and his party were swamped while trying to shoot the grand rapids in a light boat. Two members of the party, Edward LaFrance and R. Volkoffski, were drowned. The count saved himself.

Savings of Life-Time Lost.

Chicago, Aug. 4.—Special detectives of the Pullman company are on the trail of $5,000 in bills tied in a handkerchief lost by Mrs. Anna Childs, of Washington, D. C., while in a berth on her way here. It is the savings of a lifetime. She believes it was stolen. She was on her way to purchase a house for her son here. Pullman officials believe the money slipped out of the berth upon the floor and was found by some passenger.

Woman Author Secures Divorce.

Chicago, Aug. 4.—Mrs. Frances Trego Montgomery, author, and prominent society woman, was granted a divorce this morning from her husband, Hugh M. S. Montgomery, a wealthy broker, and member of the Chicago board of trade. It is alleged the husband is paying attention to a young woman, a detective on the stand testifying he had followed him and the woman on a trip to New York. There was no alimony arrangement.

INFATUATED ACTRESS SHOOT AT MARRIED MAN.

New York, Aug. 4.—Mrs. Neville Castle, who shot and slightly wounded William B. Craig, a lawyer, the bullet hitting a fountain pen in his pocket, in the Waldorf Astoria last night, was arraigned in Jefferson market police court this morning. She had the case postponed until Friday, being put on bond of $3,000. She is still in jail. She is a former actress and a San Francisco society leader. She declares she tried to commit suicide in the presence of Craig, with whom she was infatuated, but he would not divorce his wife. When he tried to prevent her he was accidentally shot. He says she shot intentionally. Craig's wife is taking his side.

MR. BARKLEY WILL SPEAK AT ODD FELLOWS MEETING

Mr. Alben Barkley was requested this morning to deliver an address at the Odd Fellows meeting at Danville, Tenn., August 14. This will be quite a large affair, as seven or eight counties will be well represented. Mr. Barkley will speak on Odd Fellowship and a number of distinguished men will be present.

PICNIC FOR POOR.

The annual picnic to the poor and afflicted will be given August 20 at Wallace park by the Rev. and Mrs. R. W. Chiles, of the Union Rescue mission. Mrs. Chiles has direct charge of the work. She will call on citizens for donations; as it is expected to furnish dinner for the people. Anyone wishing to contribute can call the mission by telephone.

STATE AND FEDERAL AUTHORITIES MAY CLASH OVER THIS

Provincetown, Mass., Aug. 4.—Complications between the federal authorities and the state probably will result as the refusal by Admiral Schroeder, of the Atlantic fleet, to surrender David W. Williams to answer for the death of H. H. Foster, mess attendant of the battleship Vermont, who died after a boxing bout with Williams on that vessel. When Detective Bradford, of the state police, demanded Williams of the naval authorities to answer the charge of manslaughter, Admiral Schroeder in refusing to give him up to the authorities, said he did not deny the state's jurisdiction, but the government had instituted an inquiry and wished to wait until the investigation was concluded. It is said that if Schroeder refuses to surrender the man Attorney General Malone will take up the matter with Washington.

TRUNKS MAY CONTAIN THE LITTLE VIVIANO CHILDREN

Chicago, Aug. 4.—Two trunks supposed to belong to Samuel Turissi, suspected of kidnapping the Viviano children, for whom $25,000 ransom was asked, are under police guard at the Adams Express office here. The trunks are consigned to Bernadotte Lewis. No address is given. Lewis is not known. The detectives are trying to locate him. A telegram from Chief Creecy, of St. Louis asks them to open the trunks. Advice from the St. Louis police say the trunks may contain the bodies of the Viviano children. Instructions to "be sure to see the trunks are delivered," aroused suspicion. Express Clerk Board, says there is no odor from the trunks, but they are large enough to contain the children. One weighs 160 pounds, and the others 200.

THAW IS GUARDED SINCE AN AUTOMOBILE IS DISCOVERED

White Plains, Aug. 4.—When Thaw walked from the jail to the court house this morning surrounded by four deputy sheriffs, officials would give no reason. He often commented how easily he could escape. A mysterious automobile is waiting each morning as he passes by. This morning when it saw the increased guard it sped away.

Dr. Austin Flint, Jerome's alienist, took the stand this morning for Morschauer's cross-examination. He said paranoia incurable. Morschauer asked why he said before it was curable. Jerome explained that Flint meant the Thaw case is a different kind of paranoia.

Tobacco Sales Today.

Messrs. W. G. Head, of Madisonville, and R. E. Whalen, buyer for the E. J. O'Brien & company firm, of Louisville, are in Paducah today and going over samples of tobacco at the rooms of A. N. ## Might Have Been Fifty Thousand Dollars

REPORT OF PROFESSOR SMITH SHOWS IRREGULARITIES NOT PART OF SMEDLEY CHARGES

Money Paid Out of County Levy Fund, to Whom Registration Books Do Not Show

WHAT PROFESSOR JOHN D. SMITH FOUND.

- 300 warrants, written by Smedley, bearing fictitious names $9,943.20
- Warrants with forged signatures and endorsements ..... 1,297.35
- Warrants issued by Smedley without authority ..... 3,501.45
- Road warrants issued without authority ..... 680.50
- Miscellaneous discrepancies ..... 517.85
- Stolen during his term as deputy clerk ..... 9,528.67
- Stolen during his term as county clerk ..... 6,412.48
- All warrants were forged in handwriting of Hiram Smedley
- During year, 1905, while Smedley was out of office, there were no forgeries.
- Error of $129.27 in accepting treasurer's report in 1904, allowed to stand by commissioners.
- Warrants were issued for $2,158.43, for which no orders could be found, but not included in forgeries.
- Under present system, clerk, deputy or county judge could steal without detection.
- Method of finance committee is no check against fraud.
- Report of county commissioners on treasurer's report indicates no check against fraud.
- Record of fiscal court order book, showing that registration of names and parties furnishing rooms in elections was made in cases charged to county fund, is not true. No names are registered.
- Many warrants issued from written orders of county judge and never recorded in county order book, and never presented to the fiscal court.

"I have found forgeries and shortages aggregating nearly $16,000," said Prof. John D. Smith, in making his report on the condition of the county's books to the fiscal court yesterday, "but it might be $50,000; for all anyone can tell."

Warrants were issued without orders; for ten years forgeries were placed under the eyes of the members of the fiscal court and approved; warrants were issued without orders and without going before the fiscal court; orders supposed to be in the county order book were not recorded; money was issued from the county levy for the care of elections, and showing that the names of the parties were listed, when they were not. All the books show is that the taxpayers' hard earned money was spent in such a fashion that Prof. John D. Smith was moved to remark in his report:

"I cannot approve of the loose methods of handling the funds for the various purposes."

A recapitulation of the report follows:

I made a thorough examination of the accounts of all salaried county officers—holding office under the jurisdiction of the McCracken county fiscal court, from January 1, 1897, to and including June 30, 1909. I found that all of the officials had drawn their regular monthly and quarterly allowances or salary, in accordance with the orders as shown by the fiscal court order books, with the exception of R. T. Lightfoot, county judge. Instead of drawing his monthly allowances or salary, he would draw from time to time amounts to meet his demands, and make deposits in the county depository—placing same to the credit of the county levy fund, from which all warrants issued in his favor were charged.

After making an itemized statement of his account from January 1, 1902, to and including June 30, 1909, I found his account to be as follows: Total amount due him on salary from January 1, 1902, to and including June 30, 1909, $11,525; total amount deposited by him, R. T. Lightfoot, as aforesaid, as shown by the books, and statement certified by J. C. Utterback, county treasurer, herewith filed (see supplement sheet No. 35) for $3,675.45—making a total of $15,200.35, making an overdraft of $320.30. This, however, should be reduced, as you will find by referring to sheet No. 30 1/2, a statement showing warrants amounting to $160 should not have been charged to his account, still leaving an overdraft of $170.50.

I now call your attention to a supplement of my report made by R. T. Lightfoot, county judge, in which he makes protest against a number of warrants amounting to $876 being charged against him. There is an error of $177 in the addition of his statement, as the total of same only amounts to $699 instead of $876 (see supplement sheets Nos. 31, 32, 33, 34 and 35). Out of his statement I did not list against his account two warrants as follows: T. J. Moore, for $25; R. T. Tyree, for $40. I have also deducted as shown above, warrants amounting to $160, leaving a balance amounting to $407, which I feel satisfied should not be charged to his account and if I am correct in this would leave a balance due R. T. Lightfoot of $236.50. However, I shall not assume the responsibility to say that he is entitled to a credit for $407, and leave it to you to decide. For warrants see exhibit "R."

Sheets Nos. 29 and 30 contain a list of warrants amounting to $2,158.43, which were issued during 1907 and 1908, for which no orders

McCracken county through its attorney, Alben Barkley, will in the next few days call upon the Title Guaranty and Surety company, of Scranton, Pa., the bonding company of former County Clerk Hiram Smedley, to make good the shortage of $15,971.15, covering a period of 12 1/2 years. Failure of the company to reimburse the county will result in a suit to recover the amount stolen by Smedley while the company was on his bond.

Attorney Barkley stated this morning that he would proceed at once in an effort to make up the shortage. Smedley first began his forgeries and deceptions under the administration of Judge Bethshires, then the county judge. At this time Smedley was in the capacity of deputy county clerk, where he remained for eleven years, being under Judge Tully. He served under Mr. Fisher and Charles E. Graham and was afterwards chosen clerk. In relating the first discovery of Smedley's wrongdoings, Attorney Barkley said that at every session of fiscal court he called upon Smedley to report the collection of back taxes, but he said he had collected none. In May, 1908, Smedley reported collecting $238, which led to an investigation forcing him to resign from office. Smedley did not record his collections on the regular book, but put them in a private cash book, which was not known to the county officials and was inaccessible.

On his resignation he turned over the private book and the shortage of back taxes was found, amounting to $1,582.50. This was at once recovered from the Title Guaranty and Surety company. There was nothing agreed upon between the county and company as to liability for any other shortages.

It will be a stupendous undertaking to figure out the many suits that will have to be brought for the recovery of the full amount. As the bonding company was only on for Smedley's term as county clerk for four years only, the amounts stolen by him in that length of time can be recovered only from the company.

DEMOCRATS OUSTED AT LEXINGTON

CIRCUIT JUDGE DECLARES ELECTION DISGRACE TO STATE.

CARRIED BY FRAUD AND BY INTIMIDATION.

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 4. (Special.)—In a sensational opinion of the Fayette circuit court, Judge Watts Parker today declared the city election of 1907 null and void, thereby ousting from office Democratic Mayor John S. Kain, City Assessor John Doyle, City Jailor Masner and City Attorney Wallace Mauer. He said the election reeked with fraud and intimidation. The purchase of negro registration certificates was carried on by police and detectives, Democratic office holders and office seekers. Hundreds of people were deprived of the privilege of voting because of manipulation of voting precincts by Democrats. He sustained practically all the sensational charges made by the Republicans, declaring the election a disgrace to Kentucky.

ADD-lead Special. 123456 $9
The contest was instituted by Republicans against all the city officials but owing to the difficulty in securing proof in many cases, it was later dropped, except as to the four men ousted today.

HEALTH BOARD

TAKES UP QUESTION OF DISPOSING OF CARCASSES.

Dr. H. P. Sights Says That Sewer District No. 3 is Badly Needed.

Dr. H. P. Sights, city health officer, recommended yesterday afternoon to the board of health that a sewerage system be built in district No. 3. He said it was badly needed and would include residents of Fountain avenue and the northwestern and north sections of the city. The estimate of the work he gave as $400,000. No action was taken.

William Bradshaw, Jr., was appointed to investigate from the government if the city would be held responsible if individuals dumped carcasses into the river. The government forbids the dumping of dead animals in the river.

The question of draining and filling Little's pond near the Union depot was referred to the general council.

Dr. Sights complimented the newspapers for taking such an active part in helping clean the city.

TO ATOMS

BODY OF JARRETT CHARLTON WAS BLOWN BY DYNAMITE.

Foreman of Clay Pit at Crossland Victim of Terrible Accident Monday.

The Calloway Times Says:

Word comes from about Crossland that Jarrett Charlton, a foreman at the clay pits, was blown to atoms on Monday by the accidental discharge of dynamite. It is said that in striking a match some of the composition from the match flew into an open box of dynamite which exploded with terrible force killing him, mangled the body beyond recognition. He was a resident of Crossland, and is survived by a wife and children. He was a man well known and well thought of in that community. Burial of the remains took place the same day.

Mr. John Stovall of Barlow was in the city yesterday.

SCHOOLS OF CITY TO BORROW MONEY

NECESSARY TO MEET SALARIES FOR FIRST TERM.

Quorum Failed at the Board Meeting Last Night—Will Meet Tuesday.

ANNUAL REPORT TO BE READY

An important meeting of the school board was postponed until next Tuesday night, because the trustees failed to make a quorum at the high school building last night. President Hills and Trustees Clements, Treadway and Niehaus only were present and the four waited patiently for more to come. They waited until 9 o'clock, when the meeting had to be called off in spite of the pressing business that should have been taken up.

Superintendent J. A. Carnegie was to have read his annual report, showing the progress of the schools during the past year. Another important item was that of letting the contract for the repairing of the school clocks in order that they might be ready for the opening of school in September. The committee was instructed by President Hills to proceed and bring in recommendation by next Tuesday and the work would be disposed of.

Secretary Sutherland had the report of the finances of the schools ready to be submitted. The report will show a balance of $1,448.58 in the bank and no debts hanging over the heads of the trustees. However, the schools will be compelled to borrow enough money this coming year to pull them through. The city has already turned over to the school fund about $12,000 in taxes while a large amount will be received from the state fund this year. The first payment probably will not be made before November, as the first payment last year was not made until November 7. The schools will receive more from that fund this year because of the increase of the amount allowed for every school child.

The electric buzz system has been installed in the high school at the Washington building and working satisfactorily. It will do away with the expense of clocks for every room of the school and the time will be announced by the teacher in charge of the study hall pressing the button.

Artificial Daylight.

"One of the simplest things to represent on the stage, one would think, is daylight," says an Italian named Fortuny in the Theatre Zeitung, "and still its accomplishment has always baffled managers. Our daylight does not come from one point, but from all directions, and this light, as from the sky, is what has not yet been produced. The difficulties, however, have been overcome, and on the stage of the new Royal opera house at Berlin the stage daylight of my invention will be seen when that house is completed. The effect is produced by electric light, mirrors, prisms and silk cloths of various colors, through which the light is made to stream."

When it comes to settling up the score there is nothing more expensive than the wedding presents you received.

THE NEW WOMAN.

Made Over by Quitting Coffee.
 Coffee probably wrecks a greater percentage of Southerners than of Northern people for Southerners use it more freely.

The work it does is distressing enough in some instances; as an illustration, a woman of Richmond Va., writes:

"I was a coffee drinker for years and for about six years my health was completely shattered. I suffered fearfully with headaches and nervousness, also palpitation of the heart and loss of appetite.

"My sight gradually began to fail and finally I lost the sight of one eye altogether. The eye was operated upon and the sight partially restored, then I became totally blind in the other eye.

"My doctor used to urge me to give up coffee but I was willful and continued to drink it until finally in a case of severe illness the doctor insisted that I must give up the coffee. So I began using Postum and in a month I felt like a new creature.

"I steadily gained in health and strength. About a month ago I began using Grape Nuts food and the effect has been wonderful. I really feel like a new woman and have gained about 25 pounds.

"I am quite an elderly lady and before using Postum and Grape-Nuts I could not walk a square without exceeding fatigue, now I walk ten or twelve without feeling it. Formerly in reading I could remember but little but now my memory holds fast what I read.

"Several friends who have seen the remarkable effects of Postum and Grape-Nuts on me have urged that I give the facts to the public for the sake of suffering humanity, so, although I dislike publicity, you can publish this letter if you like."

Read "The Road to Wellville" in pks. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

SMITH REPORT

of $2,158.43 is not included in the statement of shortage, but presented to you to determine whether or not they were properly issued. For warrants, see exhibit "Q."

Criticisms.

In conclusion, I wish to make the following comments and suggestions: First, I wish to say, under the present system governing the issuing of warrants—that any reasonable number of warrants could be issued and applied to the private use of a dishonest and unreliable clerk, or deputy clerk—and could be extended to the county judge—provided they felt disposed to combine for such purpose. The system now in practice, has no doubt been the same for 25 or 30 years or longer, but the system is wrong and should be corrected.

Second. The method through which the finance committee takes action and recommends allowances and the method of issuing warrants, is no safe-guard, whatever, against fraud being committed upon the part of the clerk or deputy clerk. Fraud through this channel could be committed by the clerk and the payees together, or the clerk alone. This has been detected and fully exposed in my report.

Third. Whenever the county treasurer makes his report to the fiscal court showing a statement of the deposits and withdrawals, etc., there appears on the fiscal court order book, the following: "This day came _____ county commissioner, and presented his report of settlement with _____, treasurer, from (date to date), on account of the county levy fund, showing vouchers amounting to $_____, and a balance (or overdraft) of $_____, which report was upon motion received, concurred in and ordered recorded and the vouchers filed."

In going over the 12½ years' work, the above form of a report is the only thing I could find in the way of an audit for the warrants issued, which simply amounts to nothing in the way of a check against fraud. Such an audit and form of a report, when known to a dishonest clerk or deputy clerk, simply opens a way for fraud. From the above report, the county treasurer, could at any time make his report of warrants cashed—say 200, of which 75 of them were properly issued and the other 125 were bogus warrants, the commissioner would not be able to detect a single one of them. The report of my investigation will bear me out, as nearly every report that has been made for the past ten years of the county levy fund, contains forgeries that were committed, and not a single one was ever detected.

No Register of Names.

Fourth. There appears on the fiscal court order book from year to year a form of a motion as follows: "Upon motion of registration of _____ date, and parties furnishing rooms for same, were allowed $2.00 each, payable out of the county levy fund."

I failed to find any record or register containing a list of names and addresses of those who are entitled to warrants under the instructions of the above order. So, from the above order the clerk or deputy clerk is at liberty to issue warrants to such parties—allowing so much extra for mileage, as he may desire. In my investigation, I found a number of warrants issued from the above order from $2.00 to $4.00, and whether or not they were properly issued, or some of them bogus warrants—no one will ever be able to decide. Calling County Commissioner, J. H. Burnett's attention to same—we simply accepted and supposed that they were properly issued. Such method opens a way for fraud.

Fifth. From May, 1907, to March, 1909, I found quite a number of warrants issued from written orders of R. T. Lightfoot, county judge, and same were never recorded on the McCracken county order book, or any other order book, and as shown by records of the fiscal court books they were never presented to the fiscal court for approval. Upon making inquiries as to such a careless way of doing business—I was informed by Miss Lizzie Ederington, deputy clerk, that H. Smedley, former county clerk, had instructed her not to record the orders. I also found that H. Smedley had issued quite a number of warrants for which there were no orders of any descriptions. This is certainly a very careless way of conducting the county affairs and should not have been tolerated.

Loose Methods.

Sixth. I can not approve of the loose methods of handling the funds for various purposes with no open accounts as shown by the records. Should a committee, as representatives of the taxpayers of McCracken county—at the present time, desire to make an investigation pertaining any special account, such as loans, roads, bridges, buildings, improvements, salaries, etc., they would have to employ an expert to go through the records and dig up same. So there should be a ledger with an open accounts with the different funds, loans, salaries and the various contracts that may come up with proper credits for value received and charges made as warrants are issued and vouchers for warrants filed. From the ledger a quarterly balance sheet should be rendered to the fiscal court, and same published in the daily papers. This would restore the confidence of the taxpayers and place the records of the fiscal court in a shape at all times for the inspection of any who may desire to investigate same, and prevent such a state of affairs as we are now contending with.

It is easier to renew a good resolution than a promissory note.

INTERNAL TRADE

BUSINESS HANDLED INSIDE THE UNITED STATES.

June Report of Bureau of Statistics On Interstate Commerce

Washington, Aug. 4.—Improved conditions in railway traffic and in the movements of coke and iron ore are characteristics of the June internal commerce report of the bureau of statistics of the department of commerce and labor. The live stock, grain and provision movements show a decrease in volume compared with the figures of the corresponding months of last year, and the extreme activity in building which characterized the reports of the earlier months of the year shows some signs of abatement.

Livestock receipts during the month at seven interior primary markets, 2,932,824 head, show a considerable decrease as compared with like figures for June, 1908 and 1907, 3,258,561 and 3,292,033 head.

The June shipments of packing house products from Chicago, 185,665,090 pounds, were likewise smaller than the June, 1908 and 1907, figures of 204,823,305 and 194,089,115 pounds.

Grain receipts in June at 15 leading interior markets aggregated 43,423,955 bushels, compared with 45,644,917 and 64,659,970 bushels reported for June, 1908 and 1907. Of the total receipts 6,551,372 bushels was wheat, 18,926,628 bushels corn, 13,583,494 bushels oats, 4,035,551 bushels barley and 326,910 bushels rye.

Grain and flour receipts during June at the four leading Atlantic seaports totaled 8,951,111 bushels, compared with 11,375,318 and 16,868,093 bushels recorded for June, 1908 and 1907.

Coastwise receipts of southern pine lumber at New York, 49,115,066 feet as well as the total lumber receipts at Boston 37,600,352 feet, show the largest monthly figures for the season and by far exceed the June, 1908, figures.

The June shipments of bituminous coal over eight of the leading eastern coal carrying roads, 7,911,711 tons, compare favorably with 6,988,004 tons transported during June, 1908. The coke traffic in June over these roads, 1,921,451 tons, shows the largest monthly total for the year and exceeded by 75 per cent the quantity reported for June, 1908.

The monthly wool receipts at Boston, 47,373,365 pounds, were almost double the June, 1908, receipts, both the domestic and foreign wools showing in the increase. Shipments of wool during the month, 16,204,487 pounds, were below those reported for June, 1908.

Building operations in 87 leading American cities, as measured by the value of permits granted, show a total of $55,123,205, which is 17 per cent less than that reported for May of the same year, though still 11 per cent larger than the June, 1908, total.

General traffic activity on the railroads during June, as shown by the number of cars handled by 33 car service associations and demurrage bureaus, 2,514,751 cars, shows a slight improvement as compared with the May results. The increase in the number of cars handled during the month as compared with the number reported for June, 1908, is not less than 15 per cent.

Plainview, Texas, Aug. 4.—Mart Miller, wife and brother-in-law were arrested here charged with the murder of Miller's two-year-old son. Physicians declare they found strychnine in milk, butter and cistern. The boy died in convulsions after drinking a glass of milk.

ARGUMENTS HEARD

TENNESSEE LIQUOR LAW TEST CASE COMES UP.

Two Points in Controversy Before United States Judge McCall at Memphis.

Memphis, Tenn., Aug. 4.—Arguments on the motion to remand to the state court the injunction proceedings brought by stockholders of the Tennessee Brewing company against John W. Schorr and the city and county authorities to test the constitutionality of the law prohibiting the sale of the products of the manufacture of intoxicating liquors within the state, were begun this morning before Judge John E. McCall in the United States court. The controversy simmered down to two points made by Attorney E. E. Wright. He contended that the question first involved is whether the liquor law is a violation of the state constitution. Should the state court decide it was then the federal court could not possibly have any jurisdiction, and the case was ended. If this point is decided against them, Mr. Wright stated it would then be remanded to the federal court unless all the parties agreed. He quoted from a decision made by Judge McCall himself to uphold this point. Both points were contested by the opposing counsel.

Daily Thought.

Eternity, which cannot be far off, is my one strong city.—Thomas Carlyle.

If the county almshouse is to have a tuberculosis ward, it is proof that Mrs. Crane's criticism of the policy of keeping the other inmates with sick and dying consumptives has gone home.

The wedge State Auditor's Agent Will Husbands drove in, when he sued Hiram Smedley in behalf of the state, has resulted in exposing what Professor Smith calls "A very careless way of handling the county affairs," to say the least.

AN INTOLERABLE CONDITION.

If one were to judge by the emaciated version of Prof. John D. Smith's report on the condition of the county books, as published in the News-Democrat this morning, accompanied by an editorial on the subject, its Sunday prediction that Professor Smith's report would reflect great credit on the county administration is fulfilled in the fact that no one was caught stealing, excepting poor Hiram Smedley.

But Professor Smith did not do that far, nor did he content himself with simple criticism of the system of bookkeeping. At the outset, before beginning to read his report, Professor Smith said $50,000 might have been misappropriated for all he or anyone else could tell. He attributed to Hiram Smedley only those amounts which could be traced to his fraud and forgery. Other thousands of dollars were irregularly paid out, and whether the money went for honest purposes and the officials were guilty of carelessness, or whether the money went for graft, there is nothing to show. For instance, money in sums of $2 and $4 was drawn from the county levy to pay for registration. The order book said the money was applied in accordance with names in the registration book. That entry is false. The names do not appear. Money was drawn on the county order blanks and never recorded in the order book; warrants were issued and money paid and never submitted to the fiscal court; the county commissioners allowed errors to go through in accounts commissioners reported to the fiscal court as correct, and Professor Smith said he was told they assumed things were honestly done. It is significant that Professor Smith found that nearly every county levy fund reported and approved in the last ten years contained forgeries and they never were detected.

It is not the system of bookkeeping that is at fault, when a county officer, instead of drawing his salary regularly, draws as he requires, places the money to the credit of the county levy fund in the county depository against which he issues warrants. The lax administration in that was confusing personal funds with the county's funds in the depository. Professor Smith's criticisms—"That is certainly a very careless way of conducting the county affairs" and "I cannot approve of the loose methods of handling the funds," are not necessarily confined to the method of bookkeeping; for his report shows that the books were not kept, according to the system adopted.

County officials may have been honest, but careless or ignorant. That Professor Smith did not charge anyone with theft or graft, does not imply that he exonerated them. There was neglect of duty on the part of the men, who handled the taxpayers' hard earned money, and theft on the part of at least one of them and officials other than fiscal officers are at fault for not compelling legal methods. One would expect an honest official to be so jealous of his honor that he would be overly particular that the county books should show exactly how every penny went. It is not even a mitigation in this instance to say that a hundred other county court clerks in Kentucky stole and were not detected until the state administration changed and a new set of auditor's agents took the field.

The taxpayers' money was stolen. How much we do not know. We only know that in the absence of direct proof of graft, an expert accountant sharply reproved the officials for their "careless way of conducting the county affairs," which "should not have been tolerated."

Will the taxpayers tolerate it longer?

SOME STORIES AROUND TOWN

Here is one that was told on Councilman Wilson, who was charged by Councilman Bowers, if not with actual chicken abduction, at least with indiscretion. At the last meeting of the council in July Mr. Wilson went to the session. He left notice at home for his son to bring his buggy down to the city about 9:30 o'clock, when the meeting was likely to be adjourned. After the meeting Mr. Wilson descended the city hall stairs and found his rig waiting for him. It being early he decided to drive over the city and drove several miles before starting for his home in Mechanicsburg. When the road home was about three-fourths traversed and Mr. Wilson was driving slowly suddenly he heard a fluttering under his buggy. Stopping the horse he got down and took a peep. There sat two fine fowls perched on the pole of the rig. Seeing that they were safe he continued and when he arrived home he found out that he had taken a neighbor's property out riding. The chickens had perched themselves on the cross pole of the buggy to roost. Councilman Bowers, who is authority on "chickens and their habits," explained that when a chicken sits down its feet become locked and do not unlock until it arises. The chickens enjoyed the ride as much as did Councilman Wilson.

who have come into a somewhat wider field of knowledge than that afforded by the common schools. Let us add to them for thirty years the three-quarters of a million pupils who, according to the report (p. 525), complete the work in the seventh or eighth grades of the elementary schools. There will be 22,400,000 of them. Now adding all these sums—allowing for the increased population to increase the number of youths as the years go on—and we have about fifty million Americans who have remained in school into the midst of their teens—something like two-fifths of our population in the next thirty years. This is not enough. Democracy may live, but it cannot thrive upon that basis. If we are to solve the problem of the century—the restriction of ignorance and greed in our business organization—we must solve it in the school house rather than in the legislature or in the court room. So long as there is a body of the people ignorant, that ignorance will breed a greed that will be duped by demagogues, and always the greed equipped by ignorance will outwit greed equipped by ignorance. The problems that this nation has solved have been for the most part simple problems. They are problems in the production of wealth. It is true that the abolition of slavery concerned the distribution of wealth. It was simple subtraction, but to deal justly with capital in its public uses to say what is the individual's share in the public partnership and what is the share of the common wealth—that is long division—a problem of distribution. And most of our national problems now pending are problems of distribution, wherefore if we are to do these complex problems of distribution, as a nation, at least we must get into the eighth grade. Perhaps the average now is nearer the sixth than the eighth.

The eYears a Boy May Waste.

As conditions now exist there comes into the life of the average boy or girl four or five waste years—the years between thirteen and eighteen. These waste years hold in them the real dangers of our democracy. For out of school the boy at least is worthless.

And yet ten millions of fourteen-year-old boys and their sisters—who are really worth something—are out of school in America today. Partly they are out for economic reasons; the family needs their support; but the state needs a clear mind in the ballot booth seven years later, worse than the family needs support, and might well afford to pay the family the errand boy's meager wages. But apart from economic forces which keep the boy out of school during the waste years of his life, there are social reasons why he is not in school. And those social reasons are his studies and his teachers, and at the bottom of all, the selfishness of the taxpayers.

For when a child is not "doing well" in school, the parents find it easy to put him to work outside. And thus of the fifteen millions of children who leave school before they reach the high school, probably five millions leave not because they have to leave to support the family but because the parents feel that the boys at least are better off working out of school than idling and wrangling with their teachers in school. Generally speaking, the fault is with the school rather than with the boy. Certainly the fact that five millions of boys in their early teens do leave school unnecessarily is a fact worth considering in making up a curriculum. And if the facts and issues driving the boy from school, the nation is the loser. Therefore the instinct of the boy for physical education should be heeded. The boy longs for many things. He craves the company of men and their roughness. He desires to do something—to see something growing under his hand. It is instinctive, and the most hopeful thing in our democracy is not the growth of the secret ballot, the cleaned party, the direct nomination and direct legislation, but the vague and definitely growing recognition that the boy's instinct for practical education in his school is to be trusted. The almost universal introduction of manual training in some form into the lower grades of American schools—giving the boy opportunity to work with his hands—is one of the most important symptoms of social health in our political organization.

The extent of the growth of manual training in the country is surprising. Within ten years—coincident with the other big democratic movements—manual training has spread to the schools of almost every American state. Typically manual training begins in the sixth grade, when the pupils are coming into their teens. It continues through the eighth grade, and there in the larger of our American cities manual training is diverted into a separate building from the regular high school.

This is known as the manual training school. There boys are taught to use their hands in woodwork, stonework, brickwork, ironwork, clay work of various kinds, and girls are taught domestic science. But these schools must not be confused with the grade trades schools that are being established in the cities of the land and in the manufacturing districts. The manual training schools do not teach the boys trades; they merely teach them to use their hands so that when they go into trades they will learn easily. The trade schools make them apprentices, and these trade schools are found now in every great American city and in every state either under the name of technical institutes, agricultural schools or trade schools. This according to the latest school census should be in school, using an educational plant valued at one and a half billions of dollars. The 1937 report of the commissioner of education (p. 524) indicates that only eighteen million of them are enrolled in school, sixteen millions of them (p. 544) being enrolled in the common schools, with an average daily attendance of nearly two millions. So that with our great plant, worth over a billion, and with our four hundred and seventy-five million dollar annual outgo, we are reaching only about half those for whom the taxes are levied. This does not mean that half of our people are illiterate. But it does mean that for some reason half of them are not getting an equipment for citizenship that they should get, and that the taxpayers expect them to get. Nor is this all; though education is practically free in America, and as the opportunity to earn one's way through college is wide, it is astonishing to note from the report just referred to (p. 525) that only 3,000 persons receive post-graduate degrees from our colleges and free universities, and that only 25,000 of the twenty-four million available students complete the four years' college course.

And now let Gradgrind gore himself with facts. Assuming that the average life of the college graduate and his post-graduate associate is thirty years out of college, we may assume that the generation now opening will be manned with a million men and women who have at least finished their college work, and assuming that the same number of juniors, sophomores and freshmen leave school—about 25,000 in each class—that are graduated, we may add three million more to the total making four million college men and women who will participate in our national life during the first thirty years of this century. Add to these four million college-bred men and women the one hundred and sixty thousand high school graduates who the report above mentioned says (p. 525), are entering life every year and the generation may reasonably be computed to hold five million persons who have taken full advantage of the common schools supported by direct tax upon all of the people. Add to this total those who drop out from the four lower classes of the high school—a list as large from each class as the annual graduating class—and one has fifteen million others

Judge DuRelle is Not Worried.

"I have no information that would lead me to believe that I will be removed from office," said Judge George DuRelle, district attorney, when asked if the report from Washington that he was to be succeeded by J. C. Speight, of Mayfield, was true.

"I have noticed several rumors published in the newspapers within the past few weeks," said Judge DuRelle, "but I have received no definite information concerning my removal or the appointment of my successor. My term lasts until next June, but the president has a right to name my successor—which means my removal—at any time."

"I have not thought seriously about these reports. I am not on bad terms with the administration and will let the matter take its course."

Judge DuRelle was appointed three years ago last June. Mr. Speight is a member of the Mayfield bar and an influential politician in his section of the state.—Louisville Herald.

THE PUBLIC FORUM.

The Cradle of Democracy.

Therefore it will be well for one who desires to see the wheels of the American government go round, to look at the power that makes them go.

"The American people," says President Butler, of Columbia University, "are almost Socratic in their acceptance of the principle that knowledge will lead to right and useful action, and if the formula be not pressed too far, the American conviction as to education, is quite defensible." At least it will not be pressing the formula too far to maintain that if education produces the power that makes the demagogue, it also makes the people who soon grow weary of him; and therefore we may argue that whatever substantial growth there has been in our institutions—and one must admit that they have grown, even if presidents and most of our senators are now chosen by a direct vote of the people—this growth has come because the people have broadened their moral vision by reason of their widening information. Schools have disseminated knowledge; knowledge has directed the normally uneasy Puritan conscience; the people have grown powerful in so far as they have grown just. And the net income from our annual investment of half a billion dollars in education may be reckoned in terms of justice. So let us go to the account, and look at the books. To begin let us consider the gross liabilities: those rough hard work is keeping American boys in school, and is doing more to educate them for citizenship than any other force in the country. As the higher mechanical schools fit into the school system are they most valuable as citizen makers.

The Spread of Manual Training.

It is remarkable how universally this manual training in the grades has come into our education system. In addition to manual training in the grades, separate manual training high schools are being established all over the country. Virginia has manual high schools in eight towns, Maine in nine towns, Delaware one in Wilmington; New Jersey has ten manual training high schools, and three cities in North Carolina have adopted manual training throughout the course; in Indiana forty towns and cities have manual work in the grades with ten manual training high schools. Massachusetts teaches manual work in sixty towns and has twenty-three manual high schools. Manual work is taught in ten California cities and in four manual high schools. In the state of Washington four cities teach manual training in the grades and seven have manual high schools; in Wyoming there are four manual high schools and three graded schools giving the manual work, and in Maryland it is introduced into thirty-five high schools and three graded schools. South Dakota has three manual training high schools, and Minnesota gives manual training work in ninety-eight schools—many of which are separate manual training high schools. Vermont teaches manual training in the grades in several towns and Tennessee in five towns.

In Ohio the state superintendent of schools says that manual training is taught in all the towns and cities and that there are many manual high schools. Arkansas has three manual high schools; Florida, five; Kentucky, one; Nebraska, three; New York, five; Missouri, three; Michigan, ten; Kansas, ten, and Georgia, twenty-two, and it is taught more or less in the grades of all these states, as well as in Wisconsin and South Carolina. For a new movement in education—one which increases interest in school for pupils at the age when their absence from school makes for economic and social waste—this tendency is too strong in America to be overlooked by any student of our government. Because the introduction of manual training work in schools means two important things to the boys—work that they like and teachers that they like. Boys need men when the boys

YES! MONEY BACK.

Parisian Sage, the Hair Renewer, is Now Sold in America on Money-Back Plan.

Tried them all and failed, thousands of people will say.

Try the real Parisian Sage and succeed as thousands have done.

In Paris Dr. Sabourand discovered the dandruff microbe and the way to kill it.

In Paris women have most abundant, beautiful, lustrous and fascinating hair.

They know about hair and its diseases in Paris, far more than we do. They have institutions where the study of the hair is made a specialty.

Parisian Sage is the only certain destroyer of the dandruff microbe which is the cause of 97 per cent of hair troubles.

These pernicious, persistent and destructive little devils thrive on the ordinary hair tonics.

Parisian Sage is such an extraordinary and quick acting rejuvenator that Gilbert's drug store, who is the agent in Paducah, guarantees it to cure dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks or money back.

Parisian Sage is most daintily perfumed; it is an ideal preparation, not sticky or greasy.

It is a magnificent dressing for women who desire luxuriant lustrous hair that compels admiration, and nothing is so good to keep the head cool and free from odors in summer.

And a large bottle of Parisian Sage costs only 50 cents at Gilbert's drug store and at leading druggists all over America. The girl with the Auburn hair is on every package. Made in America by Giroux Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

and Mrs. James Foster, of South Fifth street.

Mrs. William Johnson and niece, Miss Linda Lang, left today for a ten days' sojourn at Dawson Springs.

TRAGEDY IN ATLANTA HOTEL.

Steward of Aragon Shot Outside Door of Married Woman.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 4.—Michael P. Anderson, steward of the Aragon hotel, was shot and seriously wounded on the fifth floor of the hotel late this afternoon by William White, of Nashville, Tenn., a traveling man, who, with his wife, was a guest at the Aragon. Mr. and Mrs. White were taken to the police station and Anderson to a hospital.

Anderson has not been able to make a statement. The shooting occurred just outside the room which Mr. and Mrs. White have occupied for several months past.

From the police station Mrs. White sent the following note to Anderson at the hospital:

"I sincerely regret this horrible accident, and truly hope you are not seriously hurt. I am now at the station for what I know not."

White declined to make a statement until after he had consulted an attorney.

Before being operated on at the hospital, Anderson made a statement which was sworn to in the presence of officers. While no part of the statement was given out it is other kidney medicine I have ever learned that Anderson asserted that the shooting was deliberate. The disorder that I was unable to work reason given involves Mrs. White, and I was under the doctor's care for some time. I finally was relieved sufficiently to be able to return to my duties regarding his actions since Mrs. White has been the guest at the hotel were unfounded.

DON JAIME NO TREBEL.

Says His Only Fighting Will Be to Restore Order.

Vienna, Aug. 4.—Don Jaime, the pretender to the Spanish throne, declared in an interview here that he had no intention of interfering in the present crisis in Spain, and that his retirement to Frohsdorf, in Lower Austria, far from the Spanish frontier, was proof of his purposes.

"The Carlist party is a party of order," said Don Jaime. "I never will take upon myself to bring an entire people into danger for my own ends. Never will I lead Spaniards against Spaniards. Should I return to Spain at the head of an army, I would be only to restore order. This might happen, should the revolutionaries drive out King Alfonso or the welfare of the country require it."

"The popularity of King Alfonso is declining through no fault of his own and Queen Victoria is certainly less liked than the king. Spaniards dread foreign influence. Victoria has remained a stranger too long, and the people will never forgive her."

Don Jaime is of the opinion that the war in Morocco was unavoidable and he fears that it will last a long time.

WORK WEAKENS THE KIDNEYS.

Doan's Kidney Pills Have Done Great Service for People Who Work in Paducah.

Most Paducah people work every day in some strained, unnatural position—bending constantly over a desk—riding on jolting wagons or cars—doing laborious housework; lifting, reaching or pulling, or trying the back in a hundred and one other ways. All these strains tend to wear, weaken and injure the kidneys until they fall behind in their work of filtering the poisons from the blood.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys, put new strength in bad backs. Paducah cures prove it.

ASK THAT UNION LABOR BE USED

IN BUILDING FIRE STATION AND THIRD STORY.

IS LEFT TO THE ARCHITECT

A communication from the Central Labor Union of Paducah was read before the joint finance and public improvement committees of the general council, asking that union labor only be used in the construction of the third story for the city hall and the new fire station for the central fire department, to be built adjoining the city hall on the site where the city engineer's building stands.

The communication was received, but the committees instructed Architect A. L. Lassiter to use union labor only where practicable. The committee will not order union labor alone for the reason that it might jeopardize the city's interests and show prejudice. In case of union strikes the city would be delayed in the construction of both pieces of work. However, Mr. Lassiter will accept labor union if he thinks best. Architect Lassiter submitted the plans for both the third story for the city hall and also for the fire station. Both were gone over carefully by the committees and approved. They instructed Mr. Lassiter to proceed immediately in drawing up the specifications and to advertise for bids at the earliest date possible. The city will rush the work in order to have the city hall and fire station completed in the early fall. As soon as the specifications are drawn and bids and contracts awarded the city will immediately sell the present quarters of the central fire station.

PUBLIC FORUM

are in their teens, and the prevalence of women teachers in the sixth, seventh and eighth grades and in the high school has driven more boys from school, and made bad citizens to make bad government, than we realize. Of course, these manual teachers cost money; they make schools more expensive, but according to the report of the United States commission of education the increased cost of maintenance in the seventh and eighth grades has been met by an increase in attendance. It seems to be largely a question of how good a citizenship we are willing to pay for.

And that brings us up to the problem of the boy and his teacher. The boy goes to the pool room and the saloon primarily because there he finds men. At school he is surfeited with femininity. Given men teachers for the boy after he gets into his teens, an able boy will not be so likely to leave school as he is. But teaching is a profession that men use as a stepping-stone to something better. It is not a man's profession, and wages of teachers are so low that men cannot afford to make teaching a career. And if the statistics of the census bureau are correct no extravagance of our people is so disastrous to us as the economy we are practicing in our schools in the seventh and eighth grades. For there the boys fall out by the millions. And the fact that their sisters who can earn as much at that age as their brothers, remain on an average a few years longer, indicates that the boys leave school because they are boys, and because the schools are designated for the girls. In some hazy, indefinite way we seem to be realizing this as a people; for in ten states—Massachusetts, Utah, Indiana, Virginia, New Jersey, Illinois, Connecticut, Maryland, Ohio, California and Michigan—we have passed laws of more or less value providing for pensioning school teachers. Given a pension, and a man can afford to make teaching a profession, and the man teacher will appear in the seventh and eighth grades, and the boy will be saved to good citizenship. If the laws permitting school districts to set aside pension funds spread over the states as the laws authorizing manual training schools have spread since 1900, by 1920 the million pupils who reach the high school every year will be greatly increased if there is any ground for prophecy in statistics. For teachers' pensions are now being agitated, according to letters from state school superintendents in Washington, South Dakota, Vermont, Florida, Kentucky, Wisconsin and New York—where a better law is demanded.

Education as an Efficiency Producer.
But this crime of the waste years between twelve and eighteen when American children leave school is more than a social crime against the ballot box—it is economic. In the Annals of the American Academy of Political and Social Science for January, 1909, (p. 54), we find an investigator writing: "The efficiency of the German workman, due to continuation schools has increased to such an extent in considering American competition negligible." These same German investigators declare that the efficiency of the American workman has decreased in the last ten years. Our own American consul-general to Berlin considering the reports of these German investigators, writes in a formal report to this government: "Reduced to its simplest terms these investigators generally conclude that reliance on a general and more or less superficial education together with natural adaptability to fit young men for every walk of life and the lack of specialized study in physical science, modern language and the industrial arts, will, if persisted in, neutralize much of the advantage which our country now enjoys."

Schools and the Courts.
And that brings us into the midst of the whole matter of this American democracy. Massachusetts seems to show us that the basis of real progress is in the school house, and the experience of other states with a less efficient school system proves beyond a doubt that the limits of progress are found in the restrictions put upon progress by the courts—for the most part restrictions of the federal courts. The constitution is amended by interpretation more than by formal amendment, and the amendments by interpretation are made by the courts as a result of a most inexorable law of human nature. Men take the color of their times. And courts are men.

CURES ECZEMA QUICKLY.

New Discovery Has Revolutionized the Treatment of Skin Diseases.

Nothing in the history of medicine has ever approached the success of the marvelous skin remedy known as poslam, which, it is safe to say, has cured more cases of eczema and skin diseases than any remedy ever offered for these ills.

The success of poslam is not at all surprising when it is considered that even a very small quantity applied to the skin stops itching immediately and cures chronic cases in two weeks.

The very worst cases of eczema, as well as acne, herpes, tetter, piles, salt rheum, rash, crusted humors, scaly scalp and every form of itch, yield to it readily. Blemishes such as pimples, red noses, muddy and inflamed skin disappear almost immediately when poslam is applied, the complexion being cleared over-night.

Every druggist keeps both the 50-cent size (for minor troubles) and the $2 jar, and either of these may be obtained in Paducah at Gilbert's or R. W. Walker & Co.'s, as well as other reliable drug stores.

But no one is even asked to purchase poslam without first obtaining an experimental package which will be sent by mail, free of charge, upon request, by the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West Twenty-fifth street, New York City. No. 1 ment of the people becomes fixed, courts bend the constitution to the people.

Therefore the first obligation upon those who would change the trend of our American democracy from the worship of property rights to a consideration of those rights in relation to the rights of men should not be to change laws and reform the courts, but to go to the bottom and make men and women who can think and feel and act justly and unselfishly. The mainspring of democracy is in the schools.

"It is practically impossible to find a community in the United States," says Nathan C. Schaeffer, state superintendent of Pennsylvania, writing in the discussion of taxation as related to public education, published by the national educational association, "that does not spend more money for whiskey and tobacco than for education." The report of the United States commissioner of education, 1907, indicates (p. 525) that there are only twice as many school teachers as there are bartenders in the country. So while the aggregate amount spent for schools is large, the comparative amount is small. A few states, notably Ohio, make provision for the reimbursement of parents for the time of children in school. And eventually all the states must come to that plan. For the plan that the child can learn is so little compared with the need of the state for that child's judgment formed by a trained mind in making public sentiment when he is grown, that it is folly to haggle over the expense account. If democracy is to go forward, it must begin to move in the schools of the country. Now as a people we can move quickly when we desire to move quickly. Within ten years there has been a complete change in the American mind about the treatment of defective children. We have stopped putting children in jail; the juvenile court has come into the judicial system of practically every American state. We do not count its cost, because we see its justice.

The upper grades of our common schools and our high schools and our colleges and universities are turning out millions of men and women who are giving their lives to society unselfishly as teachers and preachers and farmers and doctors and lawyers and mechanics and merchants, whose chief thought is not for money—men and women who form the bulk of the well-housed, well-clad, well-fed prosperous body of the people neither rich nor poor. But often there rises in a town, a state or a nation some ignorant, selfish, crafty, brutal human culture, fat with prey taken within the law, and greedy for more. He debauches legislatures; he blinds the courts, and controls executives. The public sentiment of educated people does not check him, as it does the greedy man from the college. He is cross, vicious and unrestrained. Yet he is our own child. He and the criminal of the slums are brothers; and society has made both the ignorant slums of the rich man and the ignorant slums of the poor man.—William Allen White in the American Magazine.

CLOSEST FRIEND OF WILLIAM TAFT

SENATOR BOURNE, OF OREGON, CLAIMS THE HONOR.

He Never Talks Politics and Never Annoys the Chief Executive With Business.

AT ELBOW ON ALL OCCASIONS

Washington, Aug. 4. (United Press.)—Who is the closest man to President Taft? Senator Jonathan Bourne, of Oregon! So cried the president's chauffeur; so answers the president's caddy; so reply the secret service guards, the military aides and the newspaper men assigned to the white house.

No one venturing to deny the statement, it may be accepted as gospel; but why is Bourne close? Ah that's the question just now agitating the breasts of a great many worthy persons.

Why is Bourne? Is it because he took off his coat, and his waistcoat, and his outer shirt, and his under shirt during the campaign and worked like the mischief to land Taft in the presidential chair? Well, hardly. Bourne kicked like an Oregon steer against the very name of Taft. He staked his reputation, spent his money, and moved all his friends to tears in the frantic effort to throw T. Roosevelt back into the white house against T. Roosevelt's will.

It therefore cannot be because the president owes Jonathan any pre-election debts. Can it be because Bourne is an old college chum of Mr. Taft's? Well, hardly once more, for Bourne attended a brief course at Harvard while W. H. Taft enlisted under the blue banner of Yale. Perhaps it is because while the president rides along in an auto with Bourne, or plays golf with him, he imbibes from his lips much wisdom of statecraft and many straight pointers on how to steer the ship of state. Wrong for the third time. No rule of rhyme or reason applies to Bourne, of Oregon.

As near as they can figure things out, Mr. Taft's friends think Bourne has attached himself to the presidential coat tails simply because he likes to bask in the sunlight. He is at the white house six days out of seven. If the president goes golfing, Bourne is pounding the little rubber ball at his heels. If the president goes riding, Bourne is by his side in the auto. If the president has a dinner Bourne is almost sure to be at the table. If the president tells an anecdote, in almost any company, at home, on the wing, in winter or summer, day or night, Bourne's responsive laugh is sure there to be heard at the tail of the yarn.

"But what is Bourne after?" they ask. "What is his game?"

"He's after nothing; he has no game," is the truthful answer. He is the one gameless senator; the one aimless senator. Strange as it may seem, Bourne has never yet taken up a single matter of business with President Taft at a golf game, on the road, or at any other moment of recreation. He talks about everything else on earth but business. Probably this is one reason why the president likes to have him around. When he is with Bourne he can forget that he is president of the United States with several thousand jobs at his disposal, and can act and feel like any other healthy American citizen who is diverting himself by rubbing up against nature.

President Taft says that the only time he remembers Bourne having taken up any business matters with him was several months ago while the ways and means committee was trying to whip the tariff bill into shape. Did he take up the case with him on the golf links? Bourne did not. He called upon Secretary Carpenter and very gravely made an appointment to see the president at 10:30 the next morning. He was at the office building punctually on the hour, waited his turn to get into the president's den, and then walked in and ceremoniously laid before Mr. Taft the dire distress that was threatened the hop raisers of the Pacific coast if the tariff on hops was reduced from 20 to 16 per cent.

After making his argument for his constituents Bourne handed the president a petition from the hop growers embodying their request. Wished the president a very good morning, and bowed himself out. When he met the president at the golf game that same afternoon he said not a word about hops and neither did the executive.

Bourne is a bachelor, thin, smooth-faced and wrinkled, is a lawyer by profession, a millionaire by heredity and through good investments, and is heavily interested in lumber in his native state and cotton mills in Massachusetts. He lives at Stoneleigh court, the smallest apartment house in Washington, and is chiefly famed for giving away the most cigars of any man in congress. His cigars are both the longest and the shortest known to the trade. Sometimes he will meet you and fish out a smoke that looks like a fence rail. Meet him again in ten minutes, perhaps, and he'll hand you a cigar that is about the size of a quill tooth pick. Then, again, he'll thrust upon you one of each or two or three of one kind, and get real "huffy" if you re-

Anty Drudge Gives Advice.

Eleanor (in tears)—"Here's my prettiest shirtwaist torn and ruined by that nasty laundry. I haven't a clean one to wear to the party to-night."

Anty Drudge—"Well, that one is past helping and crying for, but if you will get a cake of Fels-Naptha soap, I'll show you how to get another one clean in a hurry, in cold water, with very little work. We'll iron it, too, in a jiffy and it will be far cleaner and fresher than any laundry can make it."

How long your light summer clothes last depends not on how much they are worn, but on how often they are washed. That is, if they are washed in the old-fashioned way.

If they are washed with Fels-Naptha in cold or lukewarm water, the washing won't harm them a bit.

Boiling hurts any clothes, but it is particularly hard on light stuffs, such as sheer linens, lawns, laces and muslins—rots the fabric so they will tear easily. And hard rubbing on the washboard wears them out and frays them.

You avoid this by washing the Fels-Naptha way in cold or lukewarm water. Boiling and hard-rubbing are unnecessary, because Fels-Naptha dissolves the dirt into tiny particles which are sent flying by light rubbing and thorough rinsing.

Then, too, the clothes are cleaner, whiter and sweeter, as well as longer-wearing.

Be sure to follow the easy directions on the red and green wrapper.

He has them made to order in Havana and they are popularly supposed to cost him during the course of a year as much as he draws in salary from Uncle Sam.

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS MEETING

HELD AT THE CITY HALL TO TRANSACT ROUTINE.

Plans for Fountain Avenue Extension Reported By Engineer L. A.
Washington.

TWO CLAIMS ARE HELD UP

It cost the city street department $64.30 more to care for the streets in July than it did for the month of July, 1908. This was shown in the monthly report of Street Inspector Ernest Bell, which was filed at the regular meeting of the board of public works at the city hall at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. It showed the price of labor to be $859.50, which is an increase of $174.30 over the same month last year. Gravel amounted to $523.79, an increase of $13.04 over last year and expenditures amounting to $163.92. The latter item is a decrease of $123.04 over 1908.

The inspector's report of weed cutting showed that the price paid to rid the city of its weeds was something over $200. The weed cutting has been finished and all sections of the city visited by weed cutting gangs.

City Engineer L. A. Washington submitted plans and specifications for the extension of Seventeenth street (Fountain avenue) south to B street, in Wheeler's addition, and the board decided to advertise for bids from contractors on August 10 at 3:30 o'clock. The street will be a great improvement and the expense will be paid mostly by the property owners.
They will bear the expense of the concrete culvert entirely.

Next Tuesday afternoon the board will also advertise for bids for the improvement of Plunkett hill extending to the Illinois Central railroad property.

Claims Are Held Up.
The Babcock-Wilcox Boiler company sent in a claim of $1,120 for the balance due on the new boiler installed at the city lighting plant. As the company has not made a test of the boiler and sent in a written report to the board the claim was not allowed and will be upheld until a report of the test is made. The boiler will stand 160 pounds of steam to the square inch while a preliminary test of 225 hydrostatic pounds will be made.

City Auditor Alex Kirkland, clerk of the board of public works, read a letter which was sent to the John A.
Jewell company, of Cincinnati, in reply to their request for $649.86, balance due on the construction of the brick smoke stack at the city light plant, stating that the city would not allow the claim until the company had settled all the claims against it in Paducah. Claims held by Paducah firms for supplies furnished the company amount to $674.64. The company paid a license to do the work here but its representative departed without making a settlement.

The Paducah Brewery company was granted permission to install a manhole and intake trap at its plant on Monroe street near Tenth street to carry the surface drainage into the sewers. The improvement will be made at the company's expense and under the supervision of the city engineer.

The board authorized the placing of a street light on Kentucky avenue between Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets.

Time Extended.

M. H. Weikel was granted an extension of 60 days' time in which to begin work on the sewer back of Fountain avenue running from Broadway to Jefferson street. He entered into a contract with the city February 26, wherein he was to improve the property, which is his own, and to be relieved of taxes. The property is low and he will build a sewer and fill in the property, which he says will greatly increase its value.
He will be given until September 11 to fulfill the contract. He was granted a 60 days' extension of time some time ago and it has expired. The reason for the delay he gave was that the rains had interrupted him as well as other pressing business.

The petition of J. A. Gardner for a larger pipe near his property at Eight and Adams streets to carry off the overflow of water was referred to City Engineer L. A. Washington.

City Markmaster Clark reported that the cupola of the market house leaked during very hard rains. The matter was not acted on.

President Rudy and Mr. Lack were present yesterday. Mr. Kolb was absent.

The Secret of Long Life.

A French scientist has discovered one secret of long life. His method deals with the blood. But long ago millions of Americans had proved Electric Bitters prolongs life and enriches and vitalizes the blood, rebuilds wasted nerve cells, imparts life and tone to the entire system.

It's a godsend to weak, sick and debilitated people. "Kidney trouble had blighted my life for months," writes W. M. Sherman, of Cushing,

BANQUET GIVEN FOR ROOSEVELT

GOVERNOR OF BRITISH EAST AFRICA PRESIDED.

Some Handsome Gifts Presented to Ex-President—Roosevelt Declares Africa Offers Great

OPPORTUNITY TO THE RACE

Nairobi, Aug. 4.—Roosevelt and his son Kermit were the guests of honor at a public banquet here last night. The governor of British East Africa was chairman, and 17 persons were present. The town clerk presented the welcoming address enclosed in a section of elephant tusk mounted with silver and with a silver chain. The American residents presented Roosevelt with a tobacco box made of the hoof of a rhinoceros, silver mounted, a skull of a rhinoceros, mounted in silver and also a buffalo head.

Roosevelt Speaks.

Roosevelt responded to a toast proposed by Governor Jackson, thanked the people of British East Africa for the generous hospitality and said:
"I had a thorough good time, I am immensely interested in the country and its possibilities as an abode for white men. Very large tracts are fit for fine population and healthy, prosperous settlements, and it would be a calamity to neglect them. But the settlers must be of the right type."

"I believe one of the best feats performed by members of the white race in the last ten years is the building of the Uganda railroad. I am convinced this country has a great agricultural and industrial future, and it is the most attractive playground in the world. Ample inducements should be offered to capitalists to come here. The home maker and actual settler, not the speculator should be encouraged in making this a white man's country."

"We must remember that righteousness and our real ultimate self-interest demand that blacks be treated justly. I have no patience with sentimentalists. I think the sentimentalists does more harm to individuals than brutality. Therefore I believe in helping the missionary of whatever creed, who is laboring sincerely and disinterestedly with practical good sense."

Like Western Americans.
"Your settlers remind me of some men in our west, with whom I have worked and in whose aspiration I so deeply sympathize."

In conclusion Roosevelt compared the conditions of British East Africa with those that confronted the pioneers of western America.

HEALTH OFFICERS, PLEASED WITH PROGRESS OF CAMPAIGN.

Indiana and Kentucky Boards Talk of Securing Mrs. Crane Again.

The Courier-Journal says:

"Mrs. Caroline Bartlett Crane, of Kalamazoo, Mich., the female apostle of civic improvement, who was here several months ago at the behest of the Federated Woman's clubs and the county health officers, may be induced to return here again this fall to assist the health officials in the efforts to bring about perfect sanitation. At a joint meeting of the health officers of Kentucky and Indiana yesterday afternoon, held in Dr. B. W. Smock's office in the court house, the Kentucky officials discussed the advisability of securing Mrs. Crane this fall. No definite action was taken on the matter, however, but it is likely that Mrs. Crane will be approached later on."

"Dr. B. W. Smock, county health officer, has been in correspondence with Mrs. Crane for some time past, but it is not known whether the health officials will be successful in getting her to return here again. It was said by Dr. J. W. McCormack,

A Japanese Peculiarity.

Ever since we had taken the road at Kobe, we noticed that through-some peculiarity of the Japanese eardrum many of the pedestrians and cartmen failed to notice the "chog-chugging" of the unmuffled motor.

Even a peremptory "honk-honk" failed to attract attention. It was not until Mr. Mancini, or his successor, Mr. Ito, sang out "hai-hai!"
the cry used by riksha men to demand the right of way from the slower moving horse and bullock carts—that the obstructing pedestrians or cartmen would look up, and then, surprise and wonder written over their countenances, hastily get to one side.—Outing Magazine.

YOUTHFUL ROBBER IS SAFE BURGLAR

HARRIS GRATE, 14 YEARS OLD, CAUGHT IN OHIO.

Secured $300 From Safe of Yopp & Reber Saturday Night.

HIS FATHER GOES AFTER HIM

The thief who robbed the safe at the grocery store of Yopp & Reber, Tenth and Washington streets, some time last Saturday night of about $300 in cash, has been apprehended and is being held at Springfield, O., until he can be brought back to Paducah, according to the police.

The prisoner is Harris Grate, the 14-year-old son of C. W. Grate, of 908 Clark street, a master car builder at the local Illinois Central shops. Last night at 7 o'clock Chief James Collins, of the police department, received a telegram from R. E. O'Brien, of the Springfield police department, stating that Harris had been captured there and had in his possession $206.80. The telegram stated that the lad confessed the theft after being questioned about the money and is awaiting the arrival of his father, who left this morning at 11:20 o'clock.

Owing to the boy's age he cannot be prosecuted by the grocery firm and he will be taken before County Judge R. T. Lightfoot.

Mr. Grate will return home Friday morning with his son. He is willing that the lad be placed in the reformatory.

Since the robbery the grocery firm has been able to account for the opening of the safe by the combination. Mr. Reber, finding it hard to remember the combination to the safe, had written it upon a card and hidden it under a paper in a showcase near the safe. It is probable that the Grate lad saw it. He looted around the store most of the time and was familiar with the premises. Saturday night when the store was closed until the following day it is believed that the boy concealed him-wait, knowing that the safe contained a large amount of money. He afterwards dug the card out of its hiding place and went to work on the combination, opening it in a few minutes.

Taking out the money he closed the safe, turned the lock and made his exit through a window. He disappeared afterwards from his home and the police have been looking for him since. Yesterday the telegram to Chief Collins cleared up the mystery. Messrs. Yopp and Reber were not positive as to the exact amount in the safe, although it was approximately $300.

WOULD DEPUTIZE HOBSON

Alabamians Do Not Want Him On Marine Committee.

Washington, Aug. 4.—Members of the Alabama delegation in the house who some time ago endorsed Congressman Richard P. Hobson of the Sixth district for a place in committee on merchant marine and fisheries are preparing to ask him to release them from the indorsement. Mr. Hobson as an advocate of a ship subsidy, which policy the other members of the Alabama delegation do not favor, and as the ship subsidy bill will be referred to the committee on merchant marine and fisheries they do not care to be placed in the attitude of having indorsed a man for that position. Mr. Hobson, who is now on the lecture platform, will be formally requested to release his colleagues from their indorsement.

COMMISSIONERS TO HEAR CHARGES

HENRY ROBINSON WILL BE ON THE CARPET TONIGHT.

Vacancies in Police and Fire Departments Will Be Filled, Too.

REGULAR MEETING TONIGHT

Henry Robinson, a fireman at No. 4 fire station, Tenth and Jones streets, will be on the carpet tonight before the board of police and fire commissioners, who will investigate a charge of disorderly conduct preferred against him by Chief James Wood. Robinson engaged in a fight near Tenth and Caldwell streets about fourteen nights ago and was placed under arrest and fined in the police court.

Robinson was off duty on the night of the trouble and the following day Fire Chief Wood preferred charges of disorderly conduct against him and laid him off.

The commissioners will receive the resignation of Robert Bonnin, the popular fireman at Central fire station. Bonnin handed in his resignation to Chief Wood yesterday afternoon. He is a blacksmith by trade and will probably return to his old work. He is a jolly fellow and popular with everyone. Chief Wood regrets to lose him.

Another item to come before the commissioners tonight will be that of electing a patrolman to fill the vacancy caused by the disappearance of Patrolman J. R. Morris, of the Broadway night beat. Morris, it is thought, went to Louisville. Nothing has been heard of him. The police have been making out until the police board meets.

Tonight is the regular meeting for the commissioners.
